Rain Cuts Attendance At The Centennial

GOVERNOR STEVENSON

STEVENSON LAUDS THE SPIRIT OF PIONEERS

Governor Coke Stevenson, standing in the rain, spoke to thousands here at 11 a.m. Thursday to officially open the Cameron Centennial Celebration.

The Governor made no mention of the impending race for Governor in Texas, but instead confined his address to the spirit of the occasion, lauding the pioneers and the people of Cameron and Milam county.

The governor paid tribute of respect to the memory of old pioneers who made possible our civilization and progress that we enjoy today.

He spoke of the hardships endured by the early settlers. "The people who founded our Texas civilization did not listen to the calamity howlers who protested that a state could not form in chaos and lawlessness. They went ahead and built a government on the same serious plan that we use today."

The governor was taking cognizance of criticism of his administration when he said that mistakes have

REESE TURNER ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Reese Turner of Austin, informed The Herald Wednesday that he had that day entered the race for Governor of Texas.

Turner, who is a war veteran, and was formerly State Representative from Milam county, stated that he was "disgusted with the way things are going."

He will speak over KTBC, Austin tonight, (Thurs.) at 9:30 and over KRLD Dallas, Saturday night at 8:40.

E. A. Camp of Rockdale Writes Letter About Nat H. Tracy, Colorful Soldier and Lawyer; Made His Mark in Trial of Jury Cases Here

The following letter was received too late to be included in the Centennial stories published by The Herald, but the determination of this old newspaper to continue these accounts will bring to its readers many interesting accounts of the pioneers in days to come:

"Complying with your appeal and to do my bit by the Centennial, I have forwarded to Miss Henderson the DERRINGER and its history as per attached.

"I believe old Capt. Tracy passed on before your day, in Cameron, but he is well remembered by the old timers. He was a typical old Southern Gentleman, with his goatee chin whiskers, rather big belly, and always wore a large watch chain with a

Sea Scout Looks at An Admiral

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, USN, got the Silver Buffalo (which he wears around his neck) and some off-the-schedule hero worship, as Sea Scout Morton Agatsten, Clayton, St. Louis, Mo., stepped up to congratulate him following the presentation at the national convention of the Boy Scouts of America in St. Louis. Agatsten is a member of Sea Scout Ship 28, the Polaris. ### Former Resident Sets Pace in Thrilling Track Events Leading Up to State Meet at University; Otha Lee Byrd Has Great Promise as Athlete

Otha Lee Byrd, a Cameron boy, has been setting the pace in thrilling track events leading up to the recent state meet in Austin. He lives in Freeport and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otha Lee Byrd, Sr., who formerly lived in Cameron.

Otha Lee is 16 years old and will be a Senior in the Freeport High school this fall. He was a sensation in district and regional track meets in the 880 yard run. It is his second year in track.

Here is a clipping sent The Herald by friends in Freeport:

"Freeport's speedy mile relay team showed their heels to the rest of the entries in that event and with perfect handoffs breezed in with a time of 3:30.8 seconds to nose out Reagan's highly favored Bulldogs and shatter their hopes of taking the region crown for the second straight year at Houston Saturday. Reagan had to take first place in the mile relay to win and there were few people at the Houston high school stadium that doubted their ability to win it by wide margin, but the roof fell in when Freeport's team of Ray Penny, Byron Hesselstine, Otha Byrd and Charlie Royalty refused to believe the big things said about that great team from Reagan, and proceeded to run the socks off them and bring a little more glory back to Freeport again—thus leaving Beaumont's Royal Purple in sole possession of the handsome first place trophy. Beaumont had 21 points and Reagan ended with 19.

"Ray Penny, who is improving by leaps and bounds, got things started off right in the mile relay with a scintillating run that saw him leading the Reagan entry by five yards when he handed the baton off to the smooth striding Byron Hesselstine. Reagan's second man, a speedy creature himself, after rounding the first turn

Colorful Parade Opens Centennial Thursday

Under dark skies and a pelting rain the people of Cameron launched their Centennial celebration here Thursday as more than 15 thousand visitors cheered a cavalcade of history.

Promptly at ten the two-mile-long parade paced by the commanding presence of Governor Coke Stevenson astride a chestnut sorrell, moved out along the route where thousands, braving the rain, thrilled to the spectacle which one newspaper correspondent described at the "Mardi Gras with spurs."

The parade was the opening feature of a three-day celebration. It was colorful, with emphasis on pioneer days. R. G. Grabein, as parade marshal and Sheriff Carl Black, both expert horsemen, were closely followed by the Governor, himself an old Centaur of the range who sits his mount as befits a Texan. The Governor, tall and rugged, his face lighted with a smile, was a Texas Man under a white broad brim hat that caught the rain. As the parade reached the reviewing stand the Governor dismounted and took his place to review the parade.

Two central figures to draw applause were R. L. Batte, Sr., and D. B. Worcester, who came up from the range in pioneer days.

It was a panorama of history from ox teams to hound dogs, the covered wagon plastered with lanterns and cooking utensils to the 1946 automobile. And there were hundreds of other entries as colorful and as expressive of the 100 years of history the city was celebrating.

Second Armored Division M-5 tanks gave the long procession a touch of the military, their bristling guns

HOMER P. RAINEY IS GOVERNOR CANDIDATE

Dr. Homer Price Rainey has narrowed political speculation in the governor's race.

Over a network of 25 Texas radio stations reaching every section of the state, the ex-president of the University of Texas and former professional baseball pitcher told the electorate he is a candidate for governor and will open his campaign June 4 at the ball park between Sherman and Denison.

To political observers, his campaign appeared very much underway already.

He said he is opening "a crusade to unshackle Texas" from the chains of "powerful business interests which dominate our government, our industries, our natural resources."

He upbraided the Texas regulars and their "political playmates" who he said still control the state government.

He predicted a "political house-

Talks to Pioneers

BOYCE HOUSE

The pioneers had to think fast in order to save their lives, said Boyce House, Fort Worth newspaper-radio columnist, who addressed the Cameron Centennial crowd Saturday afternoon.

He illustrated with a story of a settler who was having a footrace with Indians and his strength was about to give out when he had a bold idea. As he reached the crest of a hill, he faced about and shouted, "Come on, boys." The Indians, thinking that settlers were coming up the other side of the hill, ran away.

House related the incident of a pioneer woman who saw Indians peering from the forest. No one was home except the mother and her

HISTORICAL EXHIBITS ATTRACT THOUSANDS

Historical exhibits attracted thousands during the Centennial celebration.

Since these exhibits always appeal to people, the show during the celebration has served to emphasize the need for a permanent housing of these things. Cameron needs a museum for every community should house and safeguard its history effects.

Merchants were generous to give their show windows. The exhibits were a major emphasis on the historical and were appreciated by the people who came to Cameron.

Miss Winnie Henderson was chairman of the committee on exhibits. Some time will be required to return these exhibits to their owners. In some cases merchants have requested they be permitted to show these exhibits a few days longer.

Many here hope that the movement for a museum, already advanced, may get added interest as a result of these exhibits.

Pictured above is the helicopter which will visit here and be on display while the U. S. Army Air Forces exhibit from Kelly Field is here. Major Thomas J. Fowler, of Brooks Field, is the pilot. Qualified men will be on hand to answer questions pertaining to enlistment in any branch of service.

Ancient Typewriter Placed On Display; Fits In Oak Case

One of the unique and more interesting exhibits is an old Hammond typewriter, which has been placed in the Herald windows by the Committee on exhibits.

This typewriter is the property of Mrs. Allie Kinard and was brought in for display by Mrs. Melvin Ford at the McLane Company.

The typewriter is perhaps 75 years old or over. It fits into a wood case. The keys work on a revolving cylinder that oscillate on a combination type writer. The paper is placed from the back in a small screened cylinder.

There is no date of the make. It is well preserved and Mrs. Kinard still uses it. You must see this machine.

Mrs. Cecil C. Walden, accompanied by Miss Diedre Denson, young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Leland Denson, left Sunday for a six-week trip which will take them to St. Louis, Mo., Memphis, Tenn., Menfro, Mo., Jackson, Miss., Stonewall, Miss., and other points of interest.

MRS. J. H. GANDY IS BURIED HERE SUNDAY

Mrs. Gandy was the sister of D. H. Slaughter and J. L. Slaughter, of Cameron. Other survivors were not known at the time of the publication of this story of her death.

Requests Made For Exhibits To Remain On Display For Week

Requests have been made from numerous citizens as well as some of the business men who have given their window space, that exhibits remain for another week.

These relics of the past have created a wide interest. Due to the weather many people could not see these exhibits and if they remain on show for another week opportunity will be given to see them.

The Herald has been requested to make this appeal to the owners of the relics and to merchants to keep the displays for another week.

Year-Round Agriculture

Fertile volcanic soil, extensive plains easily cultivated and well watered by rainfall and by irrigation from mountain streams make possible the all-year agriculture that has supported Java's brown-skinned millions. The growth of population has gradually necessitated increasing the cultivation of rice for native consumption, reducing the land available for profitable sugar, rubber, quinine and other export crops.

If you haven't purchased a revised version of the Bible your old one will do; get it out, on a quiet evening, and read it.

P. B. SHORT BURIED AT MARLOW ON SUNDAY

Centennial Financial Success Despite the Handicaps of Weather

The Centennial was a financial success despite the weather, it was said early Sunday by O. B. Horstmann, chairman of the finance committee.

The proceeds will not equal by a great amount the money that was subscribed but a fund sufficiently large will be on hand to stage the 1947 show.

In all the sum of approximately $20,000 was put up here. This figure includes some $8500 spent by the city and the remainder from donations by citizens and business men.

Several days will be required to get the complete story of the Centennial but The Herald will print all facts concerning the mammoth celebration.

night the weather was responsible for a let-down in attendance. Saturday afternoon the crowd was also smaller.

The dance at the gymnasium was reduced in attendance because of weather, few from outside the city being on hand. Gray Gordon brought his New York orchestra here and the dance was a success with about 250 couples attending. It was estimated that there would be a $500 loss on this dance.

On opening day there were about 15 thousand people here to see the parade. The Firemen's races attracted a small crowd. At night a dance was staged at National Hall. On opening Centennial night a street dance was held and again on Friday night.

Boyce House, widely known author of books on Texas folklore, newspaper columnist and radio commentator, found several thousand awaiting his address to the Pioneers in City Park where a barbecue was served at noon. Many old timers came from great distances.

R. L. Batte, Sr., moving spirit in the Pioneer celebration, was happy over the success of the meeting.

He said he has no faith in the talk that Texas stands far down the line in education, for said he, "men and women who can build the Texas of today are the equal in intelligence of any people on the face of the earth."

He congratulated the people of Cameron on the Centennial celebration by saying it was the best manifestation of interest in the past it has been his privilege to witness.

Preceding the address of the governor, L. Van Perkins, chairman of the Central Centennial committee, extended a welcome to visitors and outlined the program to follow.

Oxsheer Smith, overall chairman of the committee, spoke briefly on the early days in Cameron.

Mayor A. W. McCullin, introduced Governor Stevenson and at the conclusion of the address, thanked the Chief Executive for his contribution to the opening phase of the celebration.

speech, and give poor young Morrison Hell for insulting a jury by reading from d—ed Yankee books. He picked up one book, opened at fly leaf and read, "printed by American Law Book Co., Rochester, N. Y.", and with a slam threw the book on the table and asked the jury would they be guided by a D—ed Yankee law book? Then the next book largely the same. Then the third book, picking it up very solemnly, opened it with a scornful look, read it was published in Chicago, and with all the disgust and hurt imaginable, threw it to the floor shouting, "Another d—ed Yankee book." Morrison tried to reply, the jury went out, and immediately returned a verdict for Tracy. We don't have those kind now. Some times I wish we did. They were characters to study.

passed Hesseitine but Lord Byron turned on the steam in the stretch and was trailing only a few feet when he passed the baton to the great Otha Byrd who came from behind to run his old nemesis, Robert Allen, Reagan's greatest runner, into the ground and give Flying Charlie Royalty a four-yard advantage to work on in his anchor duty. Reagan's anchor man, Al Krenek, pulled up to Royalty just before the last turn but the little man with the big fighting heart drove on in leaving Krenek as if he were standing still. The time turned in by the locals was the second best recorded in the state this spring.

"The big race awaited by thousands of people—between Reagan's lank Robert Allen and Freeport's little Otha Byrd in the half mile—was one of the most stirring runs ever reeled off in Houston. In their last meeting Allen had nipped Byrd by six inches but this time it was less than an inch and a great majority felt that Byrd hit the tape first and they didn't like the decision a little. Byrd got revenge a while later in the mile relay when he outran Allen by

TEXAS TEACHER PLIGHT CITED BY ASSOCIATION

The Texas State Teachers Association has just completed a survey among city and county school superintendents to determine the condition of the teacher personnel in Texas. Replies were received from 945 superintendents representing 36,657 teaching positions or about 80 per cent of the total in Texas. Since the opening of school in September, 3,633 teachers have resigned their positions which represent about 10 per cent of the total. Of the teachers included in the survey, 5,546 were listed with substandard qualifications which represents approximately 15 per cent of the total.

Local districts are exerting every effort possible to keep teachers in the classrooms but many superintendents report that it appears impossible to fill all of their positions this coming year because of the low salaries paid and the number of resignations which are anticipated at the close of the current school year. Practically all of the cities in Texas report resignations averaging 13 per cent. Many local school districts are voting to increase their tax rate or will increase property valuations in order to secure more revenue for teachers' salaries. 110 independent school districts have voted a tax increase above the rates they levied a year ago and 143 report that they plan to hold elections for tax rate increases soon. In 40 counties, one or more common school districts have increased their tax rates and 10 counties report that they plan to hold elections for this purpose soon.

It is estimated that 8,500 Texas teachers entered the armed forces and industry from September 1941 through 1945. However, only 1,277 have returned to teaching.

In looking over the results of the survey, Elizabeth Koch of San Antonio, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, said: "If we are to keep a staff of well trained teachers in the public schools of Texas, we must materially increase salaries. There is no other solution to the problem. The continued exodus of our teachers from the classrooms presents an alarming condition. We must give our attention to this problem immediately with the hope that local communities and the next session of the legislature will provide greatly increased support for the public schools."

Girl Scouts Planning Their Summer Camps

Camping for Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts was the main topic at the Girl Scout Council meeting Monday, May 13, at the Ada Henderson school. The Brownies plans are nearing completion and the camp will be held the early part of June. The Intermediate Scouts hope to have their's soon after the Brownies.

The Colorado Lakes of Texas Area Camp at Austin which will be built in the near future will be open for use to the Counties who join the Area Organization, but Milam county's quota for membership at this time is $9,000 so the Council decided to postpone joining at the present. The quota figure set is based upon the number of Girl Scouts in the county, the number of potential Girl Scouts, the total amount of the deposits in the banks of the county and some other similar items.

Our camping this year will be at the Girl Scout Littlehouse and the American Legion Hall at Wilson Ledbetter Park. Definite dates will be given later.

The Brownie troops placed floats in the Centennial parade. The Intermediate Scouts showed exhibits of all troops at the Littlehouse during the rodeo and served ice water to the guests.

Present for the Council meeting were: Mrs. Stanley Swift, Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, Mrs. F. A. Somers, Mrs. Lester Williams, Mrs. Bill Burns, Mrs. Leo Laake, and Mrs. John Lane Baskin.

Tenderizing Hormones

Hormones may come into some use to "tenderize" old hens and stagg roosters before they go to market, experiments suggest. An animal physiologist reveals that when birds are treated with these hormones unusual amounts of subcutaneous and body fat are deposited. Such layers of fat cause the meat to become more tender and may cause the treated birds to put on slightly more body weight than the untreated ones. Treatment starts two or three weeks before the birds are marketed. The method is still confined to laboratory work and much additional work will need to be done before it can be used on the backyard chicken flock. Research is in progress at experiment stations in California and Oklahoma in addition to Illinois.

reminiscent of the campaigns in North Africa. More than 200 cowboys and cowgirls, the youngset Little Miss Kay Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory B. Camp. The youngest of the three Camp children, James, diked out as an Indian was the future fireman and by invitation rode an American LaFrance fire truck. On the same truck was Emory III.

There were floats, commercial and novel. One of the more interesting parade units was an old fire engine from Brenham and on the steps Wesley Stevens of Cameron, who in his day followed this type to fires as the sparks flew out over the heads of the firemen and horses clattered down the streets.

Jim Turney of Hanover, drew applause with a pair of fine oxen hitched to a wagon. Underneath trotted a faithful hound, tied to the coupling pole and out of the rain. Mr. Turney had driven the oxen over the route to get them used to the pavement.

Billy Marek of the Marek-Burns Funeral home in top hat and black suit rode with dignity under umbrella aboard a glassed-in hearse—the kind you saw in the old days. An old prairie schooner with regulation seat and benches to pull got a big hand. Mrs. Ben Kennon and son, Bennie Lee, sat well up front, she with poke bonnet and snuff brush.

Robert McLane, who was an enterprising grocery merchant 56 years ago was an interested spectator as his old delivery wagon rumbled by.

W. S. Lamin in a 1925 Packard, was a part of the colorful parade.

There was an old Hupmobile from 1914 and Model T Fords and trick cars.

The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the schools, churches, all were represented. The Lions Club had a float as did many others, including business firms. The parade included a unique float from the Compress with bales of cotton. A cotton covered car represented Weems Gin. Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman in a smart surry with their daughter. Jim was resplendent in conventional black with wing collar and silk hat. They might have been on their way to church in still way back in the Seventies.

Waco had a large number of horsemen in the parade. The Rodeo and Gene Autry riders made up a colorful section. The Cameron band, the only one in the parade, made the music.

There was a special truck of bearded men, all resplendent in their Centennial garbs. Tubby Price led a conon dog and held a single barrel shotgun. Another colorful exhibit was a covered wagon with oxen, driven by Jim Turney. The women and children were inside and the men folks outside. There was Franklin Dusek, Ben Reichert, Dwight and Right Price and Robert Weems, all carrying pioneer model guns. This scene was that of the pioneers heading for homes out on the prairies and across the mountains. This exhibit was sponsored by the Mothers Club of Cameron.

A trick car from Buckholts plastered with signs got a laugh from the throng.

Bert Nicholson, organizer of the parade, looked like Kit Carson, the scout.

Then came entry upon entry. The parade required three-quarters of an hour to pass a given spot. It disbanded at Central City Park. Parade experts said it was the best organized, most colorful and expressive cavalcade in the history of Central Texas.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardul is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardul. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

little children. She put on some of her husband's clothes, grabbed a rifle and showed herself at the door to make the Indians think they would have to fight a man if they attacked the house.

The pioneers made their own fun and laughed at hardships by making up little jests about the weather, mavericks, rattlesnakes and other features of frontier life. House closed by telling the story of Merriman church near Ranger, which had a cemetery that was immensely attractive to oil companies but the members refused to lease the ground for drilling, because they wanted to leave the pioneers' rest undisturbed. He appealed for the cherishing of ideals that "are not for sale," as the basis of the perpetual well being of the nation.

FARM INCOME GROWING UNDER NEW PROGRAM

According to a study of the 1945 agricultural census released by J. W. Stufflebume, Jr., County Agent for the A. & M. College, Extension Service, Milam county farmers are carrying on a more diversified type of farming program with emphasis in livestock and poultry production.

Major trends in recent years include a decrease in cotton acreage, somewhat offset by larger acreages of feed crops. Also evident is the trend toward mechanization and tractor farming. Figures from the 1945 census shows 5,000 mules compared to 9,000 as shown in 1940 census.

Livestock production has increased materially during the past five years. The 1940 census reveals 35,000 cows and calves in Milam county as compared to approximately 55,000 in 1945. This represents an increase of 20,000 head in five years.

Hog production has remained about the same during the past five years, with a sharp decline expected this year due to limited grain production.

Poultry and poultry products remain one of the bright spots in Milam county agriculture. There were approximately 300,000 laying hens on Milam county farms in 1945 as compared to 235,000 in 1940. There were over 2,320,000 dozens of eggs produced in 1945 as compared to 1,600,000 dozens in 1940. Figuring eggs at an average of 30c per dozen, this means a gross income of around $700,000 to Milam county farmers from the sale of eggs alone.

Figures released show that Milam county farmers spent over $1,000,000 for feed for livestock and poultry. This figure emphasizes the need for larger production of feed crops. Milam county farmers have never produced enough feed for their own use.

There has been a large increase in the production of sweet potatoes, tomatoes, and other truck crops. This increase is encouraging as Milam county is potentially one of the better truck growing counties with a large acreage suitable for this type of crop production.

The value of vegetables harvested for farm household use was estimated at $220,000 in 1945 as compared to $75,000 in 1940. These figures reflect improved family diets, and whole-hearted cooperation with the government's wartime plan for increased food production.

Looking to the future, it is believed that Milam county will continue to have a diversified type of agriculture. The need for increased production of feed crops is evident, and a better market for most crops and livestock will be needed before farmers will realize the maximum benefits from their endeavors.

D. S. Hollowell of Rockdale was among the Centennial visitors. He is a former representative from Milam county.

Falls County Sheriff Shot By Deserter From The Army Thursday

Sheriff L. O. Hay of Marlin in Falls county, was shot five times and severely wounded late Thursday by an army deserter as they sought to arrest him two miles out from the city at a farm house.

Deputy Sheriff H. C. Tolar and Sheriff Hay went to the home to apprehend the soldier who was said to have deserted his company. When the sheriff sought to enter the house the man opened fire, the bullets issuing through the door. The sheriff fell badly wounded, one shot penetrating a lung and the others the right arm and shoulder.

The sheriff was rushed to the hospital in Marlin and the soldier escaped.

The deserter also had escaped earlier from officers at Grosbeck after he had been arrested.

The soldier, Wilford R. Beardon, was later captured by officers at Golinda in McLennan county.

According to reports here, Beardon had previously been jailed for desertion by Sheriff Hay and is said to have threatened to get even with the sheriff.

June 15 Last Day to File for County and Precinct Offices

Saturday, June 15 is the last day to file for county and precinct offices. There has been some confusion with May 20 which was the last day that candidates for Congress, State Senate, Representative, and district candidates could legally file.

The Legislature in 1945 amended the statute and fixed May 20 as the last day for filing for the above offices. Under the old statute May 20 was the last day to file for office where the district was composed of more than one county. This law has been amended to fix May 20 as the last day to file for district office regardless of size of the district.

Saturday, June 15 still remains the last day for county and precinct candidates to file. The Democratic Executive Committee will meet on Monday June 17 to fix the order of the ballot, to adopt the budget of costs for holding the primaries and the chairman will notify all candidates the amount they must pay to get the name on ticket.

Saturday, June 22 is the last day a candidate may pay his ballot fee. Based upon the number who properly file and pay the ballot is printed.

Only about 26 candidates have filed thus far. It was estimated that due to increased costs and fewer candidates the filing fee will be larger this year than for any previous time in recent political history.

American Legion Holds 11th District Spring Convention in Temple

The Spring Convention of the 11th District, American Legion, was held in Temple Saturday and Sunday. Saturday night a dance was held at the Legion home.

The convention was called to order Sunday morning by District Commander Emmett Streetman. A joint session of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Legion were held in the morning. Highlight of the day was the church services held by Rev. Dobbins of Temple. An interesting and impressive speech was that of Gen. A. D. Bruce of Temple, who is on leave from his post with the 7th Infantry Division in Korea. Lunch was served by the host post, Temple Post No. 133, at the Legion home.

In the afternoon the Legion, with Commander Streetman presiding, held their meeting and the Auxiliary held separate meeting. Several important resolutions were passed and will be brought up at the Division Convention at Fort Worth June 9 and at the State Convention in Galveston, as well as the National Convention.

Approximately 200 members were present and delegates were elected to the National Convention. Commander Streetman will be in charge of the delegates from the 11th District.

Many old documents having to do with the domain of Texas which in that day was so vast folks knew little about what to do with broad acres, came to light during the Centennial celebration.

Among those exhibited here is an old land grant owned by Ed. Graham of Sharp.

The grant was issued in 1850 by the state when Peter Hansford Bell was governor and George W. Smith was commissioner of the General Land Office. This grant was issued in supplement of a land certificate issued in 1838, two years after Texas became a Republic.

The grant was titled to land in Milam county located near Sharp, which is still in large part in the Graham family. The grant called for 15 million 80 thousand 360 square varas of land. Mr. Graham said that there was around 4000 acres or more in the tract.

The grant was issued to Charles Cronea who was a Frenchman and lived in New Orleans. The land was purchased from Cronea by E. W. Graham, grandfather of Ed. Graham, in 1861. The late L. F. Graham, son of E. W. Graham, and father of Ed and Sam Graham, succeeded to the land. Much of it has been sold, but about 1500 acres still is owned by the family.

Mr. Cronea, it is related, left Louisiana in about 1860 and came horseback to Milam county. He carried the grant in a small wooden tube and Mr. Graham still retains the tube. Late one day he rode up to the Graham home and offered to sell the land and they made a trade.

Land in those days was worth little. In the sale the Graham family got a large block of bottom land.

There is always a furore about some public issue; we wonder what the world will be discussing a few hundred years from now.

TREND SHOWS VETERANS ARE TAKING UP JOBS

Unemployed veterans in the Waco area, in a majority of instances, are using every means offered, including their own initiative, in seeking jobs for themselves and going back to work as rapidly as they can, James H. Strauss, District Supervisor of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, said today reporting that there had been 398 fewer new applications for the $20-a-week readjustment allowances filed in this District during April than in March. Many veterans have stopped coming into our offices because they have found jobs, he said. This area includes Cameron.

Strauss said that for the week ending May 11, 7,237 veterans came in to continue filing on claims which they had previously started. This was a 561 decrease from the average of 7,798 a week in April.

Throughout the state, Strauss said, a total of 233,518 applications had been filed by returning veterans since the program started September 4, 1944. Only 3,113 of these veterans kept on filing until they had used up their 52 weeks entitlements allowed by the G. I. Bill of Rights.

More than 111,000 veterans stopped filing claims after they applied for their readjustment allowances. This meant they went back to work or to school, he explained. As of May 11 in Texas, a total of 119,261 veterans were receiving the allowances under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Of this group 27,000 were self-employed, 94 per cent of them farmers.

By agreement with the Veterans Administration, the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission acts as their agent in handling the servicemen's readjustment allowances program in this State. Funds are supplied by the Veterans Administration out of monies voted by Congress for that purpose.

The statewide number of new applications had dropped off from an average of 10,000 weekly in December, January and February to an average of 6,000 during April. New applications received in the State for the week ended May 11, totaled 5,226.

Texas had approximately 700,000 men in the armed services and between 400,000 and 450,000 are home now, which means that only a fourth of these are getting the allowances while they look for work. The rest of them have found jobs.

"The Jones Family" Sets Attendance Record At The Centennial

"The Jones Family" appear to have set an attendance record at the Centennial celebration.

In all, 22 from the Jones Prairie Joneses, were here. The family dates back to pioneer days in Milam county.

Among the family heads here were James H. Jones of Dallas; R. M. Jones of Harlingen; O. T. Jones of Galveston; Bailey F. Jones of Freeport; Rex B. Jones of Corpus Christi; Mrs. Earl Wright of Robstown and Mrs. Robert Glenn of Jones Prairie. All are children of the late Dick Jones.

Including the children, there were 22 of the immediate family of the Joneses.

Beedi Jones was the father of Dick Jones and the latter was constable for 20 years at Jones Prairie. The community was settled many years ago by the family. The Stidham family also are pioneers of the community.

Ben Stidham, father of Grady Stidham of Cameron, and T. B. Stidham, Jones Prairie merchant, was an early settler and his father came to that community before him.

The Jones Prairie community was named for another family of Jones, related to the Stidham family.

J. W. Raska of Belton was among the Centennial visitors on Saturday, coming down for the rodeo and the old settlers reunion.

New Cameron Drug Co. Established 45 Years Ago By Five Pioneers

New Cameron Drug Company was established 45 years ago and during the Centennial was happy along with many friends and customers to recall the almost half century it has been in operation.

J. F. Thompson, pioneer and father of Mrs. Meta McCown and of the late Fred Thompson, established a drug store in Cameron in the early days.

In 1901 a company was formed by Dr. Ferguson, Dr. N. Cass, Dr. W. W. Greer, Dr. E. N. Shaw and S. M. Burns. The store was operated in the building now occupied by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

John W. Pace was the first prescription druggist in the newly organized store. Mr. Thompson had been in business since 1886. He purchased a business from J. B. Moore who came here after the Civil War.

In February 1910 the late Dr. T. J. Denson came to Cameron and bought the store. He later shared ownership with his brother, the late Dr. John L. Denson, who was the father of Dr. T. Leland Denson. The store was named the New Cameron Drug Company when purchased by Dr. Denson. It had been previously known as Cameron Drug Co. In 1919 Joe Denson bought an interest in the business and later purchased the interest of Mrs. Della Denson, widow of Dr. Tom Denson. In 1944 Joe Denson sold a half interest to Vernon Harrison of Giddings.

Tommy Floyd of Freeport was in Cameron the past week.

Mrs. Ann Bieberstein of Port Arthur is visiting her niece, Mrs. Annie Heneichsin.

Homer Cherry of Kilgore was a visitor in Cameron last week.

It is a primary fact of science that oftentimes the only clue which a scientist needs to solve even the most difficult problem is the definite knowledge that some other scientist has solved it.

RAINEY

Dr. Rainey's announcement left only one big question in the governor's race: what does incumbent Coke Stevenson intend to do?

Former Gov. James V. Allred and Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel have both said they do not intend to run.

Dr. Rainey's announcement brought to 10 the number of declared candidates in the governor's race. The other nine are Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, Austin; W. J. Minton, Sherman; Walter Scott McNutt, Jefferson; Jerry Sadler, Longview; Caso March, Waco; Beauford H. Jester, Corsicana; William V. Brown, Texarkana; A. J. Burks, Odessa; and Attorney General Grover Sellers, Sulphur Springs.

Dr. Rainey, who was discharged as president of the university of Texas in 1944 after a conflict with the board of regents, said today his ambition as president had been "to tackle the great fundamental problems facing Texas—to find the answer to the difficulties which keep us from having the high standard of living to which our people are entitled."

He said he soon found "selfish and powerful interests" opposing him. He did not give his full platform, saying he would go more into detail during the course of his campaign.

His announcement, however, indicated he will seek:

1. A program for industrial peace: "Free management must do justice to free labor and hours, security, and fair conditions to work. And free labor, when treated justly, must keep its contracts, must work with full efficiency, must purge its own house of racketeers, and must stay on the job so that we can have full production."
2. Good schools.
3. A first-class health program.
4. A decent welfare program.
5. Farm-to-market roads.
6. "And a host of other things."

Statement from School Board of Cameron Independent School District relative to proposed School Tax Increase

In asking the tax payers of Cameron for an increase in the present school tax rate of 75 cents to $1.00, for the maintenance of the Cameron schools, the Cameron Board of Education feels that the tax payers should be informed as to why this increase in taxes is necessary.

As most of you, who have been close to our schools in recent years know, almost all of our teachers are underpaid. This condition has existed in our schools for years, and although we have lost some of our teachers on this account, we have been able to operate on our limited budget by replacing them with teachers from smaller schools and teachers who have not had enough experience to demand more salary than we could pay. However, the revised Rural Aid Assistance law compelling small schools which have to have assistance from the state in order to operate their schools, to pay their teachers a salary based on their preparation and experience, leaves the salaries of some of our teachers below those of smaller schools.

The following financial recommendations on our schools was received from the State Department of Education after a recent inspection of our schools by their Supervisor;

Salaries in a good many instances are below those found in Equalization Aid Schools. Especially is this true in the Elementary Schools. There is no escape from the fact that schools who pay less than other schools, many of them much smaller, will lose their best teachers. Neither is there any question but that a salary of $1,300-.00 is very small for this period of inflation.

The district has been in good condition financially but with the increased cost of the whole educational program it is evident that additional revenue will be needed. There are only two ways of increasing revenue, one by increased local maintenance, and the other by participation in the State Equalization Fund. The latter may not be possible but is worth investigation."

The State Department of Education's financial recommendation on our colored schools follows;

"That more classroom space be provided and more teachers be employed to relieve the crowded elementary school condition; that teachers salaries be raised to a living wage; and that the library receive immediate and financial aid from the Board of Education." The question of State Aid for our schools has been thoroughly investigated by the Board in conference with Mr. Spence, executive secretary of the State Department of Education. This meeting developed the fact that we could only obtain $784.00 more from the state than we are now getting, and we would lose some of the things we now have which the patrons of the school demand for their children.

These are only some of the many financial problems facing the Cameron Board of Education which must be solved if we are to continue to have the kind of schools we have been used to and of which we are justly proud.

Respectfully Submitted;
